

Suspect Convicted in Keshena Slaying.

William Waupochick, 41, of Keshena pleaded no contest and was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in Federal Court in Milwaukee Thursday in the death of a lake developer in October, 1976. No date has been set for sentencing.

Waupochick originally had been charged with first degree murder in the stabbing death of James Renny, 56, a project manager for the Legend Lake development in Menominee County. Renny was stabbed at least 15 times as he left a tavern near Keshena.
